GOOD TROUBLE

Art Exhibit: April 1 - April 29, 2022

Since 2014, Cambridge College and Violence Transformed have collaborated to sponsor an annual exhibit linked to a socially relevant theme – a theme that helps us document the transformative power of art and the ability of art, artists, and artmaking to address compelling issues of our time. This year's theme is “Good Trouble.” The exhibit is designed to document and celebrate the role of social activism in securing social justice, racial equity, women's empowerment, LGBTQ+ rights, respect for immigrants, migrants and all marginalized groups, and climate reform for our endangered planet.
